

Template Tools

A point-and-click approach for you to create your own law firm web site, without needing to learn much. You get a law firm web site for a relatively low cost.

Plenty of tools exist that allow you to point-and-click your way to developing a law firm web site, at a fraction of the cost of having someone do it for you. Legal Firm Web Host offers such a tool, Web Site Tonight, to fulfill this need.

Is this the right approach for your law practice? Here are a few points to consider:

- You are looking to have a few page web site and a professional email address for your law practice;
- You enjoy learning new things and are curious about how websites are developed;
- You aren't looking to have your law firm website attract new clients; if people cannot find your website with a search engine, that's OK;
- You just want to get something out there for now and have a day or two to create the law firm website yourself.
- You don't mind spending the time to do it yourself (DIY).

If you have answered YES to these points, then using our template tool, WebSite Tonight, or our one page business card solution, OnRamp, is just what you are looking for.

Which should you choose?

- OnRamp provides you with your own domain name, a professional email account and a single web page for your law practice (similar in style to a business card). You don't have to do anything to have this created. This is the cheapest, easiest way to have a professional internet presence.
- WebSite Tonight gives you the tool to create a 5, 10 or unlimited page website. Choose the template you like best, choose your colors, and click away to developing your very own law practice website.

Either solution provides an inexpensive presence on the internet.
